ne Reflections on Mechanical Callings as

Many years ago the writer was fore-man of a machine shop in Boston, Mass., and one day had an application for apprenticeship from a young man who was accompanied by his uncle. The latter carefully explained that his nephew did not expect to be a machinist for a living, as there was ample means for his support outside of the workshop; but he wanted to learn the trade, so as to be independent of cirtrade, so as to be independent of circumstances. The propriety of the intention of the young man and his uncle was reoognized; but the exaction was made that the apprentice should travel the same road that impedunous and needy young men traveled; there was no royal road or short cut to mechanical success to lads of great expectations. These plain truths—very plainly presented—suited the applicant and his relative, who was at that time a United States Senator, and subseuently became a candidate for a still

The young man came into the shop, was treated the same as the other approntices, was instructed as though he was to become a machinist and follow the honorable business for a living. But he disregarded shop hours; he sneered at shop rules; he came and went as he chose; and finally, six years after, he was usher at a second-rate amateur mechanic.

His experiment as an embryo m chanic illustrates the nonsense frequently talked in public and published in print-that the experimental knowlsecures the journeyman-apprentice a chance for an income from his trade The notion is as fallacious as would be that of every graduate from a college claiming the qualifications for a pro-

It is well enough that young me thould learn some means of supporting themselves by their own exertions, but it is folly to imagine that because a boy has solled his overalls against a lathe and dirtied his hands with oil and blings, he is necessarily a mechanic, and can return to his shop, as to s 'city of refuge," when misfortune overtakes him.

No mechanic is worthy the name who does not keep abreast with the improvements in the shops. To do so, he must either work in the shop or be a frequent visitor. It is astonishing to men-practical mechanics-who write for publication to their brother me-chanics, to see how the changes and possible improvements in shop methods and shop tools keep apace with their growing years. The sixty-year-old proprietor of a well-known manufacture with the way specific propriet or the sixty-year-old proprietor of a well-known manufacture with the way specific results and propriet or the sixty-year-old propriets of tory said recently that he was sur prised every day when he compared what was being done in his own estab-lishment with what he knew how to do thirty-five years ago; and this man is one of the liveliest mechanics and prolific inventors of the country. It is evident from observation, and it is convincing from experience, that a learned trade should be a practiced trade to be of real use. - Scientific American.

HE TRAMPS. How His Eyes Were Opened-Seeking the

"Yes, I used to work," said the tramp as he toasted his toes before a warm coal stove in a Ninth Avenua that. Well, it broke me all up, until now I can scarcely got any sleep at all. What's the use of working anyway? I find the popular caper is to make fools hustle for the benefit of the upper ten-thousand, and I played fool long enough. This reminds me how my eyes were opened.

"It was in the month of January, 1869. The weather was so cold you could taste the air in breathing it. I was delivering bread like an idict, was neavering bread like an idict, when I came to the corner of Four-teenth street and Seventh avenue Twice I attempted to get around it, and twice was hurled back by the plereing blasts that swept down the sevente. The third time I made was a sevented to the sevente. avenue. The third time I made up my mind to succeed or freeze to death in the attempt. As I got around what should I see but a roll of bills rolling toward me. It looked like a thousand dollars. I gave the young fellow who was with me a push that sent him into the gutter and bagged it. There is one thousand dollars sure, said he. I sent bim to deliver the last loaf in the rear of a saloon, and while he was gone I hurriedly counted the bills. There was ust one hundred dollars. I put fiftyfive dollars into one of my pockets and showed the rest to Jim. That makes twenty-two dollars and fifty cents for me, said he, and so we divided. He set up the champagne and blew in the rest. I knew that he would do it when I kept more than half in the first place."

"And this was your eye-opener?"
"That very same. I find that I get along just as well by taking things easy. Before I got down to rags I made it a practice to find umbrellas or anything else worth taking from the hallways of up-town houses. A silk umbrella was a good day's work, and when I secured a coat I had enough for a week Things have changed somewhat in later years. People have become more watchful, and the majority are terribly suspicious. Every ity are terribly suspicious. Every householder now has his front door fastened by a chain that will permit i to be forced ajar only a few inches and even the servants are not always to be relied upon for their lack of discernment. If I knew of something better I would cheerfully abandon tramp life, but I don't."

With this the respons below analysis

-There were four thousand more births than deaths last year in New Jersey. INSANITY is on the increase. Statistics show this. Many cases are brought on by overwork, anxiety, excitement, mental trouble and nervous prostration; it is also inherited. Invariably sleeplessness and constipation manifest themselves before one becomes insane. Constipation induces dyspepsia, jaundice, bad breath, piles, pimples, low spirits, headache, etc. Dr. Jones' Red Clover Tonic relieves constipation, thereby caring these diseases. Price 50 cents. What It Moans.

Last fall when the St. John party factor in national politics, its leaders were warned that such action upon their part would result in dealing a thlese to their cause from which it insisted upon being recognized as a blow to their cause from which it sus. could not recover in years. They Tan President's Last Evening Beception were advised that the only thing they could accomplish was the restoration of the Democratic party to power, and that the natural consequences of such a result would be to scatter the prohibition forces so widely and ef feetually as to preclude the idea of their soon coming together again. Of course this means that the average man is largely governed by his passions and revenges, and it may not be a very complementary comment upon humanity, but it is true, novertheless, and he whe loses sight of this fact is not wise. The elections of this spring show that those who prophesical evil to the prohibition cause as a result of the St. John movement did not speak july. All over the country, where local option laws have enabled the people to suppress legalized saloons, the revalsion of sentiment seems to have taken elections shows that fact -and towns that have not had a saloon for years | United States is $192,000. have voted to open them. If this sort of a result is pleasing to Mr St. John and Elder Hobbs and Captain

Here in Decatur the same causes brought about the same results, but there was another reason for the remarkable decline in the prolubition vote. For some eight years past Decatur has been the theater of one of the most persistent and ardent temperance agitations ever known in | trial of Win. Dickson, foreman of the first any city of this size. It has entered Sur-route jury, was continued in the into local elections, whether they are witnesses, among them some of als had any bearing on the question or not, and a man could not be a candidate for any office, from governor trial yesterday. to poundmeater, without having his standing on the hosens question discussed. Every other interest bas been lost night of and aldermen have seemed to act as though they were elected for no other duty than to grant or refuse license. So long, so bitter and so persistent has been this contest that it is no wonder people got tred of it, and expressed their stan mission. dissent by most emphatically voting down the elements which seek to make this question paramount to all others. Not only was this done with in the lifth war I the candi late who represented the side which favors the granting of heense indiscriminately was similarly sat down on.

Then there was another cause for the cyclone which struck the probibition ticket, and that was the fool ish policy paraned by the leaders in their efforts to formulate a ticket. Their vacillation, their doing and undoing, their inconsistency and indecision, served to make the whole matter ridiculous and to pile up a few more shovelfuls of earth upon the mountain that already covered it. All in all the election was a notable event which has lessons in it that all would do well to head. Life in the Paris Sewers is possible for a short time to the re bust, but the majority of refined persons would prefer immediate death to exist ence in their recking atmosphere. How much more revolting to be in one's self a a living sewer. WINANS' WIVES.

One of Them Wants a Divorce and Dower. NEW YORK, April 22 .- A hearing was reference to the prohibition side, but | had yesterday before Judge Ingraham in a suit for divorce and dower, brought some time ago, against Ross Winans, the Baltimore millionaire, by a lady claiming to be his wife. She was a Miss Alice Saalfield, and alleged that Winans became acquainted with her while she was governess in a wealthy English family; that he brought her to this country and lived with her; that he introduced her to his friends as his wife, and that he after ward abandoned her and married bli present wife, who is a sister of the cele rated artist, Whistler.

Winnus' defense is that he never treated nor acknowledged the plaintiff as his wife, and that after he abandoned her she went to live with another man. To this the plaintiff replied that she married a California gentleman after Winana deserted her because she was adviscil by a lawyer that she was not Winans' wife, but that being otherwise advised subsequently she obtained a di-vorce from her second husband and slaimed her rights as Mrs. Winans. The case has been conducted privately and very quietly by consent of both sides The matter was yesterday referred to Stephen P. Nash as referee, to take testi-

Winams has lived abroad a great deal, and is the owner of a vast estate in Scotland. Miss Sanifield, or Mrs. Winans, as she claims to be, is a handsome blo of thirty, the laughter of a formerly wealthy London merchant. Winans' fortune is estimated at $10,000,000.

L (Desperate Fright For the Possessio

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 21 .-- Advices were received here yesterday from Guatemala describing briefly the scene of General Barrios' death. The contending armies had hardly begun the battle, when the Guatemalan commander was killed. He was not leading the troops on the battieficid, but was passing leisurely along at some distance in the rear of the troops when an onslaught was suddenly made on him by a band of the enemy. Harrios feil mortally wounded by a bullet, and died in a few minutes. A desperate struggle was made to capture his body from his body guard, and twenty Guate-

It was in this fight that Barrios son fell. It is common belief that Bar-rios was deliberately assassinated by the intrigues of Zaldivar, and that the re-sponsibility for the crime rests with him. BLOOD ON THE BEACH.

—A Struggle for Life.

A New York Lawyer Kills His Mother, His Sister and Himself.

Sanguinary Ending of a Pleasant Strol on the Seashore at Greenwich, Conn.

The Murderer and Suicide Ascertaine By the Coroner to Have Been Insane.

GREENWICH, CONN., April 22.—Barclay Johnson, a lawyer of New York, was walking along the shore at this place yes. terday in company with his mother and sister, enjoying the bright sunshine and the scenery. The ladles sat down on some rocks for a few moments to rest. then himself. All three died instantly. Johnson was a graduate of Yale College in 1882, and was valedictorian of his class. His age was twenty-three. He had been alling for some time, and at intervals his mind seemed to be affected. He was yesterday supposed to be conva-

After shooting his mother in the head Johnson torned to his sister, who stood paralyzed with fear, and discharged his weapon at her, the bullet striking her in the mouth. The girl caught hold of her brother's hand and tried to disarm him. During the struggle which followed the pistol was discharged again, the ball passing through Miss Johnson's eye into the brain, killing her instantly.

The shots were heard by residents near by, many of whom hurried to ascertain their cause. A few nearest the scene arrived just in time to see Johnson point the pistol to his own right eye and send a builet into his head. He fell dead a few paces from where lay the bodies of his mother and sister. A Coroner's jury decided that Jahnson was insanc.

TEN STORIES HIGH. The Equitable Insurance Building in St

Louis To Be Carried Up to Ten Stories—The Plans and Estimated Cost.

St. Louis, Mo., April 22.-A long contemplated improvement that will contribute greatly to the imposing grandeur of the Insurance Building, on the corner of Sixth and Locust streets, has been flually determined upon in selecting plans for the addition of four more stories to the lofty pile, that will then tower to the height of ten stories. The present structure, erected some twelve years ago, is owned by the Equitable Life Assurance Society of New York. It now fronts 125 feet on Locust, by a depth of 100 feet on Sixth street, and attains the height of six stories carried up in the thuest dressed stone. It cost originally between $700,000 and $800,000. The solld stone statues of heroic size that stand guard on the outer walk of the top cornice cost $15,000. They will be taken down and preserved. If they were colossal they might be made to do duty on the elevated building. but their dimensions at the great height of 152 feet from the pavement would dwarf their size, apparently, to mere pigmies.

In place of the present array of statuary the upper cornice will be finished with a massive balustrade. Alexander on, the architect, who has just returned from New York, where his plans, n competition with numerous other were accepted, says the estimated cost of the addition is $100,000. Proposals to contractors will be advertised here and in New York city. When completed it will compare favorably with any ten-story compare invokative with any compare invokation of the country. This improvement will make ninety-two additional rooms. It will be built strictly fireproof. On the Sixth and the Locust street fronts the present order of architecture. tecture will be carried out in iron, backed by brick walls. To reduce the weight of the superstructure to the minimum—about 400 tons—the construction will be carried up leave the old roof to protect the occupants during the progress of the building to completion. The interior will be handsomely furnished in Florida yellow pine and the halls paved with variegated marbles. In the roof there are to be two skylights. The presont elevater will give place to an improved pattern and two others will operate where the inclined stone steps lead in from Locust street. These stone steps will be removed to make the neces sary room, and the present staircase will only reach to the fifth story of the redeled edifice. Where the rear court is the boilers are to be placed and two force pumps of sufficient power to throw two 31-2-inch streams through stand-pipes from the top of the building across the street on the roofs of houses in the immediate locality, will be put into working order as a precaution against

In addition to this there will be all the modern electric appliances and the force pumps will maintain a constant supply of vater in all parts of the building.

A Fine!Building Threatened. St. Louis, Mo., April 22.-At a quarter before one o'clock this morning fire was discovered issuing from the roof of the Singer Building, on the northeast corner of Fifth and Locust streets. Successive alarms soon called out the entire fire department of the city, and the progress of the fiames was so successfully combatted that the loss from are was confined to the upper story of the building, and will not exceed $15,000. The Singer Building was erected by the Singer Sewing Machine Company, at an almost fabulous outlay of money. It is almost fabulous outlay of money. It is built of polished granite, and presented a bold and beautiful appearance on the chief thoroughfare of the city.

Had the flames got beyond the control of the fremen, great destruction must have ensued, owing to the high wind prevailing at the time, and the contiguity of valuable buildings and immense stocks of

instead of the strike being broken, it will continue with increased vigor. This is the result of the final effort of the visiting committees to induce those that have ured the advance to cease work until all should stand on equal footing, and the success of the committee's efforts was a great surprise to the miners themselves. At the close of a conference of the At the close of a conference of the strikers' committee yesterday morning, President Costello said that with the exceptions of the Rend pits all the mines on the Pan-Handie had shut down yesterday morning. The Chartiers, Banksville and Tom's Run districts were all out, and the appendion was general. President Costeney suspension was general. President Cos-tello yesterday morning received a latter from the Ohio Miners' Association, proposing that the men in the Zanesville re-gion and those of the Pittsburgh districts move together, so as to make the strike general in both localities.

WITHOUT BENEFIT OF CLERGY.

The Granting of Liquor Licenses Opposed By Catholic Priests WORCESTER, MASS., April 21.-For the first time in the history of the city the Catholic clergy appeared before the Aidermen last night to remonstrate against Barelay, who was standing near by, suddenly drew a revolver and, without a word, shot his mother and sister, and then bloomed a light applicants for the bloomed and sister. that there were eight applicants for licenses on the street where his church was located. It was not in the interes was located. It was not it we introduced to find the mould be granted, and he would hold the Board cuipable it it was done. There were 6,000 people, including 1,200 children on the street every Sunday. Only last evening a little boy eleven years brought to the parochial rest old, was brought to the parochial residence in a state of intoxication. The street is honeycombed with such places. that street sell to the children as well as to men. Blowing His Horn For Jeff Davis. NEW ORLEANS, LA., April 22 .- Colone A. G. Horn, editor of the Meridian (Miss.) Mercury, yesterday addressed a petition to President Cleveland, asking for the removal of the political disabilities of Jefferson Davis. He says:

"This disfranchisement of Jefferson Davis is a source of great mortification and distress to thousands of Southern people, who would gladly suffer with him his pains and disabilities. His great military and civic services rendered to the country, now happily at peace, make a silent appeal to the Nation for this long-deferred expression of magnanimity." Colonel Horn adds: "I do not know that Mr. Davis wants any friends to do so for him; I only know I want it done, and in conformity with my undisputed right to petition I ask him." Horn is a leading editor in East Mississippi,

CHICAGO, ILL., April 21 .- A startling liscovery was made at the Chicago University this morning. The janttor saw two men digging a trench at the base of the observatory. One of the men ran away at the approach of the janitor, but the other, who was a foreigner continued digging. The janitor called up Prof. Hough, who called two policemen who took the trench digger to the police station. The man said he been hired to dig the minimum—about 400 tons—the construction will be carried up with iron columns and girders. The partition walls will be of hollow tiling and the floors will be arched over so as to were to be put into the trench to allow admission to it at any time. Near by was a barrel of coment in which several mysterious packages carefully wrapped were found. The work had been carried on wo different nights.

The Billiard Tournament. New York, April 22.-Irving Hall was well-filled last night by a number of ladies and gentlemen, to witness the sec ond game of the billiard tournament Among those present were Mme. Patti and Signor Nicolini. The contestants were "Jake" Schafer and Maurice Daly. Both men made some elegant "breaks," and were frequently applauded. Schafer however, after the fifteenth run, seemed to do much as he liked, and finished th game 184 points ahead of his opponent. The score was: Schafer, 500; average, 15 5-33; highest run, 60. Daly, 316; average, 9 28-32; bighest run, 34. Time of game two hours and fourteen minutes.

The commissioners reques that the circular be forwarded to the President. Mr. Tooker sent the circular last night, with a strong indorsement accompanying it.

The Glendale Mystery.

CINCINNATI, O , April 22 .- The Glendale mystery is growing in interest. The identity of the three highwaymen, one of whom was killed by Webb C. Charb Monday morning, has not yet been established. Detectives are on the trail, and new developments are looked for every hour. Some of the citizens of that city are inclined to think the story is a hoax, but Mr. Charbs bears an excellent reputation, and there is no doubt about the truthfulness of his story. The citi-11 the striking miners are filling up tens of Glendale are very much excited goin, and the indications now are that " ever the affair.

CAPTAIN KANAN IS MAYOR.

The Contest for City Officers and the Result by Wards.

The Next Council Will Stand 7 to 3 fo

The Decatur city election for 1885 past, and the shake-up of yesterday is the general topic of conversation to-day. You can get any sort of talk on any corner where the local politicians most do congregate. Sifting the interchange of views it may be clearly stated that the different parties in Decatur now know how the voters stand on the issue that has been the chief contention here since the days of Rowell and Hoofstitler. Republicans ed by a handsome majority. and while much hard work was done last year's election, and is a surprise to there was no bitter feeling and no collisions of any character. There was a total of over 2500 votes polled in all the wards.

For Mayor Captain M. F. Kanan, who received the vote of the Republicans, deboth his opponents. The Captain carried all the wards in the city except the fifth, the home of Shoemaker, where Kanan's friends made no special effort to divide the vote.

I. R. Mills was elected attorney by 98 plurality over Johns and 548 over Walker. Chil Betzer was elected elerk over Durfee by a plurality of 614. Charles Laux, for treasurer, defeated Steele 408; and Myers 428. For aldermen Daniel Whitsel was elected in the first ward; B. K-Durfee in the second; I. W. Horace Dacemport. 40 Porry..... 19 On the license question, the new coun oil will stand 7 for license and 3 against. The anti-license aldermen are hold-over members, Wayne from the first, Muzzy from the second, and Starr from the third. A year hence these members will retire, when there will remain in the council license alderman and the mayor. Politi YESTERDAY strawberries appeared in early, the council stands 7 republicans and > tically settled for at least two years, and this leads the people to hope and believe that the new council will be in a position to devote time to the practical business interests of Decatur. That the council will handle the license matter judiciously and with some regard for the feelings and wishes of property owners and business men generally is confidently expected by all who desire to witness a wise management of city affairs. Even the warmest advocates of license will urge care in this matter. The adjourned session of the old counoil will be held to morrow night, when Tuesday's vote will be canvassed, and the successful candidates declared duly elected. The new council and Mayor Kanan will take hold of municipal affairs on Monday evening, May 4th.

He is an energetic young man, and will make a good alderman. For the first time in 10 years the sec ond ward now has a license alderman.

Some of the Prohibitionists must have voted for Duriee or he could not have defeated Huddleston. There is a feeling of relief among the business men that the license question will now be a side issue in the management of city affairs for at least two years. Mr. Wait and Mr. Shoemaker will com pare notes, and discover if they can, how it was that both are left out on the grass. They would save more time if they will glance at the figures.

A Visit to the Jail. The reporter spent a few minutes a the jail yesterday, and found 13 prisoners in hock. The more celebrated of the sheriff's pets are Charles Durbin and his wife, who are held without bail for the alleged murder of their infant daughter, found below the Illinois Central bridge, on March 27th, just twenty days after it disappeared. Durbin was found playing cards with two companions. He chatted with the reporter a short time, and then returned to the game. Durbin is a man of medium height, apparently 35 years of age, and rather dudish in appearance. He has had no opportunity to speak to his wife since arrest. She occupies a debtor's cell in an upper room, where the reporter found her sitting close by the grated window looking out upon the street, and at intervals giving her attention to needle work in her lap. Mrs. Durbin is an auburn haired woman of about 25. She refused to talk with the reporter, except to say yes or no, or "I have nothing to say to newspaper mennothing to print." There was an air of deep gloom in the room and it was inreased by the sadness of the woman who looked like one without hope and whose mind was absorbed in the horrid emembrance of a terrible crime commited, either by herself or by one whom she "loved not wisely but too well." It seemed unkind to further question the woman, and she was left to continue her

"Queena" To-night. The closing drams for the season will be witnessed to-night, when Grace Hawthorne and her own company will present "Queens," a thrilling drama that is said to be one of the finest on the boards. Said the Globe Democrat:

"Grace Hawthorne's triumph in Queens was unmistakable. She knew her par and its requirements, and by the vivid-ness of her acting the result, the hearty spontaneous applause of the audience was achieved. The mad scene in the third act was superbly done, and three recalls before the curtain furnishes evidence of the effect produced."

Miss Hawthorne's ability as an actress is well known in Decatur. She has frequently appeared here in different roles, Henry McClellan weighs over 200 the last time in "The Honeymoop." She and will receive a warm welcome. Her costumes are elegant and varied. Popular prices.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS. Victors Practices on the Part of Educators At public dinners and other gatherings we are much given to boasting of our public schools, of the thoroughness of the instruction which they impart, and of the brilliant pupils they send out to dazzle a wondering and bewildered world. They are indeed idols, that we worship with a heathen-like persistency, and we give to them powers which they do not possess and virtues which they cannot justly claim. As we bow down to them we are prone yellowish brown; beneath, ashy. The to hug the flattering delusion to head and body measure six inches in our souls that there are no similar length. This is the common wood and institutions of learning elsewhere that too, in the mos of the fact that there abundantly in all the States south of are plenty of men and women in our own city who have never enjoyed the advantages which our public schools are supposed to offer, but who are fully equal, if not superior, in intelligence and general culture to the graduates of five yards in length, each of which is and general culture to the graduates of inhabited by a single family. This rat builds a nest of grass, or at times of The schools are all right in intent and builds a nest of grass, or at times of cotton—hence its name—and brings forth from four to six young several times during the year. The young attain their full growth in less than five months. It runs rapidly, and is an excellent swimmer and diver, like the mind is trained in a healthy manner. They are forging houses, so to speak,

They are forcing houses, so to speak where young trees are made to bear premature fruit, where the intellect is too often dwarfed by over-study, and where the body, in spite of systematic rats are numerous.

It feeds upon the seeds of various grasses, and also largely upon animal food. Cray fish, various insects, wounded birds and rats and mice, all enter largely into its dietary. It will kill a Florida rat of twice its size in a few seconds, and so pugnacious is it that in captivity it will destroy and devour every rat and mouse put into its cage, and even worker individuals of its own species. weaker individuals of its own species.

It is also very fond of eggs, and destroys numbers of nests of the quality Difficult home lessons for pupils of

It may seem like an exaggeration to those not familiar with the facts, to say that some small children have been required by the system now in vogue in our public schools to draw seven or eight maps for a home lesson, and that equally arduous tasks have been set for others to perform after the regular echool

It is high time that a good deal of this kind of work should be stopped by the Society for the Prevention of Cruel-ty to Children, if there is no other authority to step in and stay the hand of the destroyer. That there are some robust children who can stand the strain put upon them in the public schools is no reason why those more delicately organized should be sacrificed to an ambition that is as tyran-nical and cruel in its way as any the

SONG BIRDS. Female Vanity the Cause of Wholesale

The former wealth of bird music in field and grove here in Connecticut can not well be understood by those he have grown up since the destructtve warfare on birds began. It is a wonder, in fact, not that so few, but and Acute Coughs, Asthma, Bronchitis that any are left, when we consider the variety of shapes in which disaster overtakes our singing birds. Not to mention the many thousands that are destroyed in the egg or nest by marauding boys and "specimen" collectors, the further destruction of the migrating Nothing on earth fetches a man like by dashing their lives out against the lanterns of an endless string of lighthouses along the coast—for their journey is mostly performed at night—is a good dinner and a well-dressed wife far larger than is generally supposed and would seem to be enough to de-cimate them. If we add to this the will have little difficulty in managing him according to her will. Men are gregarious animals, and will wander ruthless wholesale slaughter of some species—like the bobolink, for example—by gunners along the Delaware and rivers further South, who devote the birds to stews and pies, there need be no further looking for the cause of the marked diminution of the most rollickmarked diminution of the most rother-ing and once very abundant songster of our May and June grass fields. Yet the introduction of the mowing ma-chine, with the earlier grass-cutting that has accompanied it, supplies an additional explanation of a part of the rule, find the husband always glad to go back to the pretty home where smiles await him and the dinner I smiles await him and the dinner I spoke of. There are so many women who object to being "bossed," as they call it. My dearladies, you can always be boss if you take the trouble. By giving in you get your own way as you never would by fighting for it. And, after all, it is better to feel you general disappearance of the bobolink. He is not found, as a songster, elsewhere than in these charming fields of our North land in the 'perfect' months of May and June, and his months of May and June, and he peculiar rollicking, tinkling, swaggering melody was one of the charms of such scenes at that happiest time of the year. Perhaps his extermination can not be stopped, but this wholesale destruction of all sorts of song birds, including our finest singer, the brown threshold and all inst to supply feath. Just as you did before. Argument and contradiction are vital enemies to marcontradiction are vital enemies to mar-ried peace. Should you wish for any-thing particularly, don't insist upon it after refusal. Some women are per-sistent and ask: "Why may I not? Why won't you do as I tell you?" and irritate the man. Rather bide your time, and make an extra good dinner of his forcests dishes put a how on of thrasher, and all just to supply feath ered ornaments for women's hate, is a little too bad. If the women would be content with the European sparrow, now unfortunately naturalized in this country, nobody would offer a word of opposition.—Hartford Times.

A PRIVATE LETTER. Probably no man is better known or

Probably no man is better known or more highly respected than Mr. Julian S. Carr, President of the Blackwell's Durham Tobacco Co., of Durham, N. C. In every tobacco store in the United States, and in many foreign countries, Blackwell's Durham Tobacco is sold, and it is a well-known feat that the sales of this Company disposition of the dead is to burn their bodies. As educated people know, the process of decomposition is really slow Durham Topacco is soid, and it is a well-known fact that the sales of this Company largely exceed those of any other tobacco manufacturer. That such success has been obtained is due to the energy, integcombustion. We are burnt up in any rity and ability of Mr. Carr, who has so successfully managed the affairs of the Company. Such a letter as the following, written by Mr. Carr to a personal frie whose only interest in the matter referred to was a desire to do a friendly act, is certainly worthy of careful reading.

Durham, N. C., Feb. 25, 1885.

My Dear "Mac":—I have delayed My Dear "Mac":—I have delayed writing to you, with reference to the Ath-Iophoros remedy, until I could hear from a friend of mine, a gentleman of high character, who used Athlophoros at my suggestion with very great benefit. He is a tobacco manufacturer of high standing. I have waited to hear from him in order that I might use his name officially. I am

I have waited to hear from him in order that I might use his name officially. I am satisfied, however, that he must be at the New Orleans Exposition, and my letters have failed to reach him. So I will not delay answering your letter longer. You want to know whether Athlophoros is really as good as you thought when you are really as good as you thought when you so kindly sent me a couple bottles. I had a sister who was a victim of neuralgia and rheumatism. She suffered intensely, and her condition gave her family and friends much concern. Every known remedy was tried, but without effect. When the bottles you sent me came, I sent one to my sister and one to my sister-in-law. My sister was so encouraged from the use My sister was so encouraged from the use of this one bottle that I put her upon a thorough treatment of Athlophoros. I certainly owe you and Athlophoros a great debt of gratitude for the relief the remedy has given her. She has almost completely recovered from rheumatism, so much so that she has stopped the use of Athlophoros and considers herself well.

My citarinal to whom I gave the My sister-in-law, to whom I gave the other bottle, was suffering fearfully with the pain—the Athlophores relieved her entirely. I gave a bettle of Athlophores to an intimate friend who suffered such in tense pain in his head that he looked as if tense pain in his head that he looked as in his eyes would start from their sockets, and by its use he has been greatly benefited, and tells me that he received such relief from it that he orders it by the box and keeps it at all times in his house-is never without it—can't afford to be, this is the gentleman to whom I wrote. I wanted to send with this his opinion in his own handwriting, but as I stated he must still be at New Orleans. A very worthy colored man, a house carpenter, Jim Whitted by name, lives in the house adjoining "my man of all work."
One moraing my man told me that Jim was suffering so intensely from rheumatism that the neighborhood was disturbed day and night by his cries of agony.
Wishing to test Athlophoros before my own eyes on a genuine case of acute rheumatism, I wrote the Athlophoros Company stating Jim's condition, and offering, f they would send me the remedy, to see that it had a fair trial in his case. I confess, with all my confidence in Athlophores, I doubted whether it could help Iim, but it was faithfully tried and I think the proudest man now in all this community is Jim Whitted. He claims to be entirely relieved of all his rheuma-tism and not only that, but he says the stiffness in his joints, which came with the rheumatism, has all been removed. Within thirty hours after he began to use Athlophores, he felt like another person. These instances have all come under my personal knowledge. I am very slow to speak of or recommend any medicine, but when a remedy has the virtue and the merit that I believe Athlophoros has, I cannot hesitate to recommend it. I have given you facts—don't they answer your question fully? Yourstruly, J.S. CARR.

CREMATION an Argument Favoring the Burning of the The feeling is growing that the best event; but in ordinary interment the decay is accompanied by the genera-tion of worms, and the dead flesh becomes offensive and poisonous. In-cineration by man is nature's process mproved. An argument for the burning of the body that is of great force, is the danger to the living from ordinary burial. In 1854, the virulence of the burial. In 1854, the virulence of the cholers in London was greatly aggravated by cutting a viaduot through an old burial-ground. The plague broke out in Modena, Italy, in 1838, which resulted from disturbing the ground where victims of the plague had seen buried three hundred years before. It is believed that every cemetery contains the seeds of virulent diseases, which may reappear thousands of years which may reappear thousands of years hence by being thus carefully pre-served. In recont years we have discovered that foul disorders are propa-gated in the human body by microbes. fungous growths and minute parasites, which are kept alive in the bodies of the dead for many generations. Were cremation generally practiced there would be no danger from the spread of epidemics, from this cause at least. It now suggested that large cities which, in their corporate enpacity must dispose of the bodies of criminals or paupers, should erect crematories. 'Potter's fields," as the receptacles of the dead of the community are often called, are usually a disgrace to the locality where they exist.
